DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. This Office Action is in response to Applicant's Amendment dated February 20, 2007 in response to USPTO Office Action dated November 20, 2006.

Applicant's remarks relative to identifying the function of the program product as controlling the mode selection between the pointing device mode and the touch panel mode of the information processing apparatus, is sufficient to overcome the 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph rejection of claims 13 and 14.

The amendments to claims 1-14, and the merits of Applicant's remarks are sufficient to warrant withdrawal of the 35 U.S.C 101 rejection of said claims 1-14, and place the application in a condition for allowance as set forth hereinbelow.

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 1-14 are allowed.

3. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Relative to claims 1 and 13, the major difference between the teachings of the referenced prior art (USP 6,628,271, Matsumoto et al. and USP 5,757,354, Kawamura) and that of the instant invention is that said referenced prior art does not teach an information processing apparatus comprising displaying a symbol indicative of a pointing position on a display device in a pointing device mode of operation, and for moving a symbol at a predetermined reduction scale factor on said display device in accordance with the distance, direction and velocity of the relative movement of said touch position pointed to by said user on said touch panel; and displaying an image in the neighborhood of said symbol in a magnified form in a predetermined region on said touch panel in said pointing device mode of operation.

Art Unit: 2629

Regarding claims 7 and 14, the major difference between the teachings to the said referenced prior art and that of the instant invention is that said referenced prior art does not teach an information processing apparatus comprising displaying a symbol indicative of a pointing position on said display device in a touch panel mode of operation, so that the position of a symbol is aligned with a touch position pointed to by a user on said touch panel; and moving, in said pointing device mode of operation, the position of said symbol indicative of said pointing position on said display device in accordance with the distance, direction and velocity of the relative movement of said touch position pointed to by said user on said touch panel; and displaying an image in the neighborhood of said symbol in a magnified form in a predetermined region on said touch panel in said pointing device mode of operation.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Conclusion

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
